

Suzi Chester

ATTORNEY

Suzi Chester is a partner at Waters Kraus Paul & Siegel with more than two decades of experience representing personal injury victims. Suzi grew up in Arizona and moved to Texas in 2000 to attend Southern Methodist University. A sports lover who is always up for a challenge, she walked on to SMU's Division I soccer team and played for the Mustangs throughout her freshman year. Suzi earned dual Bachelor of Arts degrees in International Studies and Political Science. She graduated magna cum laude with distinction and was selected to Phi Beta Kappa for excellence in academics and freedom of thought.

Following graduation, Suzi continued her education at SMU's Dedman School of Law. While attending law school, she served as an officer on the Board of Advocates, was selected to the Order of the Barristers for exceptional advocacy skills, and was inducted into the Patrick E. Higginbotham Inn of Court for the 2008-2009 term. She also began clerking at Waters Kraus Paul & Siegel where she found her true passion: fighting for hardworking people who are injured by corporate misconduct.

Since joining WKPS, Suzi has successfully litigated hundreds of toxic tort cases nationwide, with a particular focus on injuries occurring along the Gulf Coast. She focuses on representation of victims of cancers caused by chemicals including benzene, asbestos, Monsanto's glyphosate-based Roundup® herbicide and polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs). In addition, Suzi focuses on cases for the families of workers whose children have suffered from birth defects caused by chemicals found in their workplace, as well as discrete catastrophic injury cases such as negligent drownings, opioid birth defects, and sexual abuse. She is licensed in Texas and Louisiana.
